MEET at THE CADE FARM

September 5 at NOON

The September general meeting is set for noon, Wednesday September 5th, at the UL Cade Farm. The address is 1178 Parish Road 183, St. Martinville. Please car pool.

TAKE HWY 182 (PINHOOK) TOWARD NEW IBERIA TO THE LIGHT AT SMEDE ROAD (183) AND GO LEFT, CONTINUE 2.5 MILES TURN RIGHT ON W.J.BERNARD ROAD, THERE IS A SIGN FOR ULL FARM, DRIVE THROUGH FARM PAST SILOS TO LARGE WHITE BUILDING ON RIGHT. PARK

President, MaryAnn Armbruster's message:

The weather seems to be breaking, just a little, and that has me thinking about my fall vegetable garden. I like the fall garden because I can work when it's warm instead of cold. I will warm any day over cold. I've already started tomatoes and cucumbers. The peppers and most of the herbs are going strong and it's almost time to re-plant carrots. If you're not familiar with planting dates for the fall, check with the on-line publication, "Louisiana Home Vegetable Gardening" at www.lsuagcenter.com. It gives both spring and fall date ranges for Louisiana.

It's time to start thinking about getting the rest of your Volunteer and Continuing Education hours if you haven't done so yet. PlantFest™ is a great time to earn hours. We need help in many areas, from parking to children's activities to tallying and more.

If you don't know where to volunteer, ask Juan Nieto, Heather Warner-Finley, Collette Anzelone or me. We'll help you find something that works for you. And remember, if you haven't entered your hours, you didn't do them. They must be entered to count, and the deadline this year is earlier than usual, so get them entered now. Don't wait until the last minute.

If you haven't been to PlantFest before, there's a lot to look forward to. Of course, we sell plants, but there are children's activities, lectures, cooking demonstrations and drawings for great prizes (we can still use some donations, hint, hint.) Come prepared to work and to enjoy yourself, it's a great day for all and a vital one for our organization. See you there.

Good Gardening

MaryAnn Armbruster

ACADIANA NATIVE PLANT PROJECT GREENHOUSE DEDICATION

The Acadiana Native Plant Project will officially dedicate the greenhouse and garden located at the Teche Farm property in Arnaudville to one of our founding members and benefactor, June Walker at our 3rd Thursday meeting, 20 September 2018. June mentored us through our first propagation and native plant sales season with grace and kindness and of course, a wealth of knowledge and experience. After her unexpected death, her family generously donated her remaining greenhouse to ANPP. The ANPP portion of the Teche Farm property will be known as the "June Walker Memorial Greenhouse and Educational Center." Join us on the 3rd Thursday in September at 5:30 PM for our dedication ceremonies.

HELP NEEDED FOR PLANTFEST

Candy Bienvenu is looking for 6 volunteers and supplies for the children's activities at PlantFest. Candy's wish list for supplies would be ribbons, Halloween items, beads with holes in the center, flowers, trinkets and anything you can think of to decorate sombrero hats, garden wind chimes and paper flower gardens. Volunteers are needed to help kids create their nature crafts. The hours needed are from 9 to 11 AM on Saturday September 29th. New this year is all 3 activities are going to be available at the same time. Contact Candy at 337-241-9456. or bienvecj4@yahoo.com.

THE DEVENPORT REPORT

Well, our 2018 Master Gardener class has begun and I am excited with the changes we have made regarding our mentoring program. Since becoming involved with the Master Gardener program, I have noticed that many of the students that complete the class do not fulfill their volunteering obligation that they agreed upon before their class began. On the first day of class this year, students signed the same commitment letter you signed last December, hoping they will realize how the program is designed to help the LSU AgCenter by volunteering to educate the public in horticulture. Each mentor was assigned two students. Students will be contacted once a week by mentors who will check in with them, answer questions and invite them to events and meetings. In addition, the mentors will be following their students the following year, checking in with them once a quarter to see how they are progressing on their 40 hour commitment. I encourage each of you to come by and meet the new class members if you are in the area. I encourage each of you to come by and meet the new class members if you are in LSU AgAgent Dan Devenport

What Plant is this?

I'm a shrub to small tree, native to South America, the Caribbean islands and the South Pacific, a member of the dogbane family. I grow in Zones 10 to 15 in sun or light shade. Almost any soil is suitable to me. I do well in seaside locations. Pruning is not necessary because I grow in an attractive rounded shape. My wood doesn't burn until the temperature reaches 500 degrees. I have leathery dark green shiny leaves clustered toward the ends of my branches. My smallest branches are about 1 inch thick and are blunted at the ends. Without leaves, they look like sausages.

When nights begin to cool, my leaves turn yellow, drop, and I become dormant. My two inch flowers, which bloom from spring to fall, can be pink, red, yellow or white and are highly fragrant. They and my white sap are also poisonous. Follicles are produced which hold my small papery seeds, which have "wings" to aid in wind transportation. I can be propagated with seeds or by stem cuttings at any time.

My oil is used to relieve inflammation, headaches and backaches. It soothes dry, chapped skin, and relaxes muscles. I am bothered by few insects, although the Pseudosphinx caterpillar feeds only on my leaves. My main disease is caused by a rust fungus which appears as orange pustules under my leaves. They should be removed and bagged for disposal. Apply neem oil to control this problem.

Do you know what plant I am?

Condolences

PLANTFEST 2018

The Propagation Team is gearing up for PlantFest 2018. This year it will be held on Saturday September 29th from 8 AM to 1 PM on the grounds of Whittington House. Whittington House is across the parking lot from our Master Gardener Demo Beds. We have a great selection of plants for sale. There will be a variety of children's activities, cooking demonstrations, and talks by local experts on gardens and plants. The talks include talks on roses and native plants. We'll have items available for raffle. And we'll have Master Gardeners available to talk about your plants and your garden. This is our celebration of gardens in our community. It takes a lot of volunteers to make it work so please consider signing up to volunteer in some capacity. Juan Nieto (jfnieto1@netzero.net or 337.290.1451) is in charge of organizing volunteers. Please call or email him to volunteer.

SUGAR CANE ADDED TO CHILDREN'S BED IN DEMO GARDEN

Retired sugar cane farmer, Daniel Viator and Master Gardener Tommy Hayes, added sugar cane to the children's Demo garden. Mr. Viator explained that sugar cane is grown in Florida, Hawaii, Texas and Louisiana. It is planted in a sunny spot on its side, in furrows long enough for the pieces to fit, and then covered with soil. They over plant the cane, as they lose a lot due to our winters. The new plants sprout from each joint on the cane sometime around April or May. So plan to stop by and check it out.

FALL PINE STRAW AVAILABLE

It's time for Fall Pine Straw, Y'all!

Orders for active MGS only will be taken at the September and October general meetings. Pick up is Friday and Saturday, November 2nd and 3rd, 8 AM to Noon, the cost is $8 per bale, cash or check payable to LPMGA at pick up, 20 bale maximum. Order early! They go quickly!

Thanks, Theresa Gore 2007

LMG WHO ARE SUSTAINING MEMBERS OR HAVE EARNED THEIR GOLD PIN

At our general meeting in August Jay Ruffin presented Cheryl Perrett (2003) with her certificate as a sustaining member. He, also, presented Sue Golden (2016) and Peggy Tracy (2017) with their golden Master Gardener name tags.

Master Gardeners were on call at Vermilionville for Acadian Day, one of the parks three free days of the year. May Waggoner, Beverly Fuselier, Nancy Atkins, Mary Perrin and MaryAnn Armbruster were fielding visitor questions.

ACADIA DAY AT VERMILIONVILLE BRINGS ATTENTION TO MG MEDICINAL GARDEN

Hundreds typically come to Vermilionville for this special event. Among the activities of this day, is a lively parade brought through the park by members of the Le Jumelage de Scott that had traditionally held their Tintamarre “parade of noise” that shares the cultural cry of the Acadian people after Le Grand Dérangement — a name given the expulsion of the Acadian French by the Colonial soldiers in Canada. The parade, called le Tintamarre, takes place every year in Caraquet, New Brunswick, Canada on August 15.

A MESSAGE FROM OUR VP JUAN

Greeting Fellow Master Gardeners,

September General Meeting:

I wanted to remind you that our general meeting will be at the Cade Farm at 12 Noon, September 5th. Mark Simon, told me that the first tour will begin as soon as there are enough MGs at the facility. The tour will take approximately 20 minutes, with the general meeting beginning after that. Once the meeting is adjourned, there will be a second tour, at a much slower pace. Please try to carpool, there is limited parking, and be careful on the road. Directions to the Cade Farm are available. See front page.

Volunteers Needed: I still need volunteers for the Ask A Master Gardener table at All Seasons Nursery. Our past president, the very talented, Linda Beyt is our speaker at the first Second Saturday Garden talk. Starting at 9a.m, Ricky James will bring in and set up equipment for the talk that will begin at 10 a.m. One hour before our speaker takes the stage at 10, we need a volunteer to inform the customers about our speaker, pass out literature from the LSU AG Center, and inform folks about our PlantFest 2018.

PlantFest 2018: I am looking for 5 more volunteers, with a lot of patience who have worked PlantFest in the past, to help park our loyal customers and work our plant holding areas. These volunteers should know the importance of having a good crew and be willing to work with the new Master Gardeners in training. If any one of you have any questions, please feel free to e-mail me.

Juan Nieto jfnieto1@netzero.net (337) 290-1451

Mr McGregor's Garden

Meet 2018 Master Gardener In Training, Julie Rabelais. Julie hit the ground running by taking over as the chairperson for Mr. McGregor's Garden. Julie took over the bed after only two weeks of beginning the Master Gardener Class. She is creating a theme of Fall on Mr. McGregor's Farm. Kudos to Julie for stepping up so quickly to help us.

PLANTFEST T-SHIRTS

PlantFest will be here Sept. 29. T-shirts this year will be a light green with the PlantFest logo on the front. Deadline to order is Sept 11. You can bring orders to propagation or to the meeting on Sept. 5, or mail to me at the address on the form. T-shirts are not required to work at PlantFest. You can wear last year's orange shirt if you want. If you have any questions contact me directly at:

Yard to Habitat (Y2H) Campaign Kicks Off

Inspired by certification programs like Master Naturalists and Master Gardeners, I have wanted to advance our mission to "promote the use of native plants in our landscape" by developing our own workshop program. When I saw that Bill Fontenot's workshop at the October 20 Southern Garden Symposium in St. Francisville was already sold out in July, I took it as a strong sign that Louisiana gardeners are hungry for help in putting their property to work for wildlife like pollinators and birds. All along, ANPP has existed for this purpose. Yes, we love plants and do propagate and garden. However, it is our recognition of plants as the foundation of every ecosystem that has driven our activities. National Audubon Society, Xerces Society, Wild Ones, and Garden Clubs of America have all launched native plant education resources. We are all partners in connecting habitats, one garden at a time. That is why we are designing our first ANPP workshop with a focus on gardening for wildlife in your own yard: Y2H (Yard to Habitat) will focus on you. With a balance of lecture, direct experience with plants and landscape design, participants will work in small groups with facilitators to set goals and go home with a plan for their own property that they may wish to have certified as a habitat. We'll tell you more at our August and September Third Thursday meetings. Join us!
